

Lush Green Forest

Last Word,Credits,Goodbye!

SO,aren't you getting tired of sitting in that squashy little 10th floor office in downtown Chicago or Times Square, New York -looking down at noisy traffic and construction cranes? Maybe you should get in a train,plane,or your truck, and find out what a great looking place this country really is!--OH!-- and don't worry about the light pollution .There are still a few campgrounds and campsites left where you can avoid the problem .

Website Checked And Verified "Up To Date" 2021.

Here are some links to park information you may find useful. For Grand Teton National Park- Bee Two \(Preferred\) or The Summit or Just Like

Magic. The information on them is identical. They all include a PDF link for easy reading or smart phones.

Yellowstone National Park information- Below The 45th (Waterfall) (Preferred). or Bullelk Both have identical information and a PDF file for easier reading or for smart phones. DINOSAUR MONUMENT

Enchanting 3 PDF files (2 maps, 1 for main text). Teton Rocks (Preferred). 3 PDF files (has identical text). These two pages are about the "Taggart Lake Trail" in Grand Teton. (smart phone users must use the PDF link to read the text)

DETAILS OF INDEX (page 1 - website port of entry) - THROUGH 6 . (images have been changed on these pages with new ones).

or the "Bright Angel" trail. Right photo is another trail I have also hiked which started at a lodge at Moraine Lake, in Banff National Park, Canada. This is an absolutely gorgeous trail. The hike, moderately hard, lasted several hours and the elevation rose considerably but eventually leveled out into a huge open field equivalent in size to many football fields. That's where I shot this image. The "Wheeler Peak Trail" (Great Basin "link" on page 6) is a moderate hike that levels out at times. The view is of Wheeler Peak.

There are many state parks in the west - such as Goblin Valley which has very unusual rock formations - or Rockport State Park. A few high elevation natural areas have ice fishing too.

I prefer taking a balanced approach on parks, monuments, or cultural buildings, with emphasis on the west and hope my articles and images have expressed enough concerns that they will not be ignored but will instead remain well preserved, natural, and not intruded upon so they can be enjoyed by all.
